Another friend advises us that the "Roll of Honor"—boys from Iron County in the service of Uncle Sam,—as recently published, is not yet complete. He calls attention to the fact that the name of Capt. Frank G. Delano, now in Panama, and Roy Calvert in Hawaii, were not in the list furnished us.

Leggett's Shows, after spending a week in Ironton, "broke camp" last Saturday night and shipped for Piedmont next day to spend fair week there. The business done here is said to have been very satisfactory to the show people. The proprietor is a clever man and seems to be absolutely "on the square." The tent that harbored the "dancing girls of '49" was easily the most popular spot on the carnival grounds and the merry-making, by young and old, went gaily on until the midnight hour.

The following is from last week's De Soto Republican: "We hear on pretty good authority that the government is establishing a war munitions plant at the St. Joseph Lead Company's works in Herculeanum, and that the manufacturing of ammunition will start there in the very near future. If a munitions plant is put in operation at Herculeanum the saloons in that town and in Crystal City and Festus will probably be closed, as the Federal law prohibits a saloon within six miles of a plant of this kind."

The Iron County Chapter, American Red Cross, has a committee at work on plans for a Halloween party to be held at the Academy of Music Monday evening, October 29, the proceeds to be applied to the purchase of materials to be made into hospital garments, etc., for our soldiers. Stanforth, Miss M. Grattiot, Miss Anna Kath, Mr. Wm. Trauernicht, Mr. Kirchner, Mr. McKinney, Mr. J. G. Newman.

These are Iron county people who once before embarked on the matrimonial sea, but, after a short term of wedded life, separated, the wife securing a divorce in the Iron county circuit court, with the custody of her little girl, several years since. The REGISTER sincerely hopes that Mr. and Mrs. Depew, newly wed, will find the sea smooth and placid this time and that many years of true happiness are before them. Mrs. Depew recently resigned as primary teacher in Pilot Knob school.

To Mrs. J. H. Robles of "Brier Patch," Arcadia, the Baptist Ladies' Aid Society and its invited guests are greatly indebted for the very pleasant afternoon spent at her lovely country home last Thursday. In due time the twenty-eight guests were invited to the dining room where delicious refreshments awaited them. On eve of adjournment a unanimous vote of thanks was extended by the ladies to their noble and charming hostess, Mrs. Robles.

The Scoville party carries with them their own cook and they will make their home while in Flat River in the Baptist Parsonage on Taylor avenue. The meeting will be held in a mammoth tent which will be pitched near the Flat River bridge near on the site where the Burke-Hobbs meeting was held, unless in the meantime the committee finds a more desirable location."

The following is reproduced from last week's Farmington News: "Wm. Black and H. W. Bringham, of Pilot Knob, were arrested by Sheriff Adams on Wednesday in connection with the automobile accident on Sunday night, September 23d, in which Mrs. Thos. Dipper was seriously injured. Black is charged with only committing a misdemeanor, but Bringham, who it is claimed was driving the auto truck which was without lights when it crashed into the buggy occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Dipper, is charged with assault with intent to kill. Black's hearing will be before Justice Cleveland at Doe Run to-morrow. Bringham was taken before Justice Zolman Wednesday and, waiving a preliminary hearing, he gave bond in the sum of $600 for his appearance at the November term of circuit court."

W. D. Fletcher last week contracted with Hudson & Clark of Boone county to furnish them 450 steers. They are to be delivered at the station at Iron Mountain for shipment October 20th. In addition 150 steers purchased from a Mr. Ives of Steelville will be shipped at the same time. They are to be taken to McBaile in Boone county and fed during the winter. It is estimated that the cost of the cattle by the time they reach Boone county will be about $70,000, as they are all large steers; the cost of feeding them during the winter will be half as much more. It was first planned to drive the cattle through from here but on reconsideration the purchasers deemed it best to ship. Of the 450 purchased from Mr. Fletcher most of them were secured in Iron county, the others in Washington.

School Notes.

The new High School building is a drawing card. The present enrollment exceeds that of any former year. The Freshman class leads with thirty-six enrolled; Sophomore class, thirteen; Junior class, sixteen; Senior class, eleven. Total, seventy-six. The enrollment of the entire school system is approximately three hundred.

Class programs have been planned for the coming year, one to be given every two weeks. The first program, given last Friday by the Senior class, was well given and greatly enjoyed. Besides the several numbers given by members of the class, was a solo by Miss Workman, one of the present faculty. Miss Workman has a voice of rare quality and charm. We hope she will assist with all future programs. The next program will be given by the Junior class, on Friday afternoon, October 19th, at 1:15 P. M. A cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested in the progress of the school.

Des Arc Items.

I saw another train of six cars from Sikeston, Bloomfield and other points south, loaded with soldier boys. They were a lively bunch, full of life, notwithstanding they left lots of broken-hearted mothers, fathers, sisters and brothers. It was a sad scene, but we have to bear it; but I hope not for very long. As the Germans are losing out every day. God grant they may soon lay down their arms and save our boys. It is not the bullets I dread in war, but sickness. I came very near dying after the "battle" round Richmond" in 1902; my mother came and took me home and nursed me. Had it not been for that I would be in a soldier's grave to-day.

I was lying in bed at Oran one night last week and thinking of "bygone days." It brought me back to the civil war, the battle of Fredericksburg, Virginia, 55 miles below Washington, on the Potomac river. This battle was fought in October, 1862, and was one of the most desperate conflicts of the civil war. Gen. Hooker of the Union army occupied the east bank of the Rappahannock river, while Gen. Lee, with Longstreet, Ewell and Pickett's divisions, occupied the west bank, for twelve miles up and down the river. The town of Fredericksburg lay at the foot of the hill, between the two armies. On Thursday night Gen. Hooker commenced making preparations to come across and attack Lee and his army. They worked all night putting in a pontoon bridge and by morning everything was ready to advance. In the meantime Gen. Lee had his army behind breastworks in front of Gen. Hooker. At daylight they commenced to cross the river and by 9 o'clock the battle was on. Hooker's army advanced almost to our breastworks, but just before they reached them our army charged them and they had to retreat, under heavy fire, across the river. Their loss, as well as ours, was very heavy. Many a poor boy lost his life there. A young man in a Mississippi regiment was killed there and his mother placed a monument there with these words inscribed thereon: "Here lies my only boy!"

I met John John Irvin at Bismarck last Sunday night. He is a merchant at Goodland and is doing a nice business.

I also met young Matthews at Oran. He is putting in 3,000 acres of wheat. He had just returned from the State Fair at Sedalia, where he bought some fine Poland China hogs. For one male he paid $500.

Corn around Oran is selling at $1.50 a bushel in the field. They are wanting hands to shuck corn at $2 a day.

I was at Sabula Saturday. C. L. Collins has a good trade from the White Hollow mills.

I was also at Annapolis. I met Mrs. Chas. E. Bolch on the train. She had been to St. Louis to bid goodbye to her brother, Ben, who has gone to the army. It went very hard with his mother to give up her boy. Mrs. Benson is one of the most kind-hearted women who ever lived in Annapolis.

Ad Reese tells me that his father-in-law, J. R. Harris, and wife, of Ironton, will move into a house he bought for them, near the I. O. O. F. Hall, Annapolis. We are glad they are coming back to be near their children, as they are both very feeble.

Dr. F. F. Farr has returned from a three months' trip through the states of Washington, Nebraska, Kansas, and several other states. He is looking well and reports crop prospects fine in most places where he has been.

E. W. Graves and wife motored to St. Louis, leaving here Sunday morning at 5 o'clock. They had some pretty rough roads to go over, but, no doubt, got through all right. Mr. G. recently made a trip to Poplar Bluff in his car and had good luck in getting through.

Prof. J. B. Jackson from Pilot Knob spent Sunday here with his parents.

W. T. Stevenson was at Taskee on business last week.

Chester Schmidt and Pete Rable have returned home from St. Louis.

John Reed and son, Orville, who are working at Flat River, spent Sunday at home.

Mrs. Eva Walcott and son, Harold, have returned to their home in Goodland, Kansas, after a visit to her father, Wm. Stevenson, and other relatives here.

Mrs. John Loyd has gone to Marquand to visit relatives.

Miss Iola Howard is visiting her parents here.

Quite a number of our people will attend the Piedmont Fair this week.

John Farris will soon move his family to Middlebrook, where he has bought a large tract of timber.

A baby girl arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson last week.

Mr. Roy Taylor from Coldwater spent Sunday here with friends.

Miss Eleanor Brewington has gone to Poplar Bluff to enter a business college.

A revival will begin at the Baptist church Friday night. Rev. Reagan, an evangelist from Illinois, assisted by the pastor of the church, will conduct the meeting.

Annual Meeting.

Notice is hereby given that the Annual Meeting of the members of the Iron County Chapter of the American Red Cross will be held at the Court House in Ironton, Missouri, on the 15th of October, 1917.

Said meeting will be convened at 7:30 o'clock P. M.

The purpose for which this meeting is called is to elect officers for the ensuing year and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

W. W. REESE, Chairman.

Attest: E. L. COOK, Secretary.

Annapolis News.

We are having some cold nights and killing frosts, but the days are fine.

E. A. Loyd has been here from St. Louis, and while here has built a porch on the north side of his house, which adds much to its appearance. He expects to be called to war soon.

Several cases of smallpox are reported out on Oran Pond creek. Drew Seale is just recovering therefrom.

Robert Miller, our postmaster, who is teaching the Minimum school, closed it down last week on account of smallpox.
